1-2. PSTG marking () system

(1) Purpose and overview of the system

The Gas Business Act was established to protect the interests of gas users and achieve the sound development of the gas business by coordinating its operation, and to ensure public safety and prevent pollution by regulating the construction, maintenance and operation of gas facilities as well as the manufacture and sale of Gas Equipment.

The term "Gas Equipment" as defined in this Act means machines, apparatus or materials that are mainly used by general consumers, etc. when conducting activities that consume gas and that are specified by Cabinet Order (Article 9 and Appended Table 1 of the Enforcement Order). The term "Specified Gas Equipment" means Gas Equipment that is deemed to be very likely to cause a gas disaster in light of its structure, condition of use, and status of use and that is specified by Cabinet Order (Article 10 and Appended Table 2 of the Enforcement Order).

The next page shows specific items related to Gas Equipment.

"Gas Equipment" other than Specified Gas Equipment

Open/closed combustion or outdoor instantaneous gas water heaters, open/closed combustion or outdoor gas stoves, closed combustion or outdoor bath heaters with a gas burner, gas stoves

* For their definitions, see p. 6 or Article 9 and Appended Table 1 of the Order for Enforcement of the Gas Business Act.

"Specified Gas Equipment"

Semi-closed combustion instantaneous gas water heaters, semi-closed combustion gas stoves, semi-closed combustion bath heaters with a gas burner, gas bath burners

* For their definitions, see p. 6 or Article 10 and Appended Table 2 of the Order for Enforcement of the Gas Business Act.

Specifically, a person engaged in the business of manufacturing, importing or selling Gas Equipment must not sell or display for sale any Gas Equipment other than that labeled (with the PSTG mark ) in a manner permitted when duties, such as conforming to the Technical Requirements established for each notification or product, have been performed (Article 138 of the Act).

See Attachment 2 to the Circular Notice for examples of technical properties that meet the performance specified in the above Technical Requirements (Appended Table 3 in Article 11 of the Ministerial Order).

(2) Notification of business

A person engaged in the business of manufacturing or importing Gas Equipment may submit a notification of business to the national government (Article 140 of the Act).

This briefing material assumes that such notification is submitted before the start of business.

(3) Duty to conform to requirements and the preparation and retention of inspection records

An enterprise that has submitted the notification stated in (2) (the "Notifying Enterprise") must perform an inspection of Gas Equipment of the type subject to notification to verify that it conforms to the performance requirements specified in Appended Table 3 in Article 11 of the Ministerial Order* ("Self-inspection") and prepare and keep an inspection record (Article 145 of the Act). Inspection records must include the following six items and be kept for three years from the date of inspection (Article 13 of the Ministerial Order).

* Attachment 2 to the Circular Notice shows examples of technical properties that meet the performance specified in the Ministerial Order for reference purposes.

(Article 13, paragraphs (1) to (3) of the Ministerial Order)

- (i) the classification of Gas Equipment and the outline of its structure, materials, and performance
- (ii) the date and place of the inspection conducted
- (iii) the name of the person who conducted the inspection
- (iv) the quantity of the Gas Equipment inspected
- (v) the method of inspection
- (vi) the inspection results

(4) Conformity Inspection of Specified Gas Equipment and retention of certificates

Among Gas Equipment, Specified Gas Equipment must be inspected by a person registered with the competent minister (Minister of Economy, Trade and Industry) (the "Registered Conformity Inspection Body"), to verify conformity to the Technical Requirements for each classification of the notified type, in addition to the Self-inspection in (3), and a certificate of conformity must be obtained and kept (Article 146, paragraph (1) of the Act).

The Japan Gas Appliances Inspection Association is the Registered Conformity Inspection Body for Specified Gas Equipment (and the only one at present). For more information, access the following URL:

<https://www.jia-page.or.jp/certification/tekigo/>

(5) Labeling (PSTG mark)

A Notifying Enterprise that has performed the duties described in (2) to (4) may affix the PSTG mark   (see p. 7 for details) (Article 147 of the Act).

Gas Equipment labeled with the PSTG mark   may be sold or displayed for sale (Article 138, paragraph (1) of the Act).

(6) On-site inspection

For product safety, officials of the Ministry of Economy, Trade and Industry (those of the Regional Bureaus of Economy, Trade and Industry are limited to inspections of manufacturing and import businesses) and/or the National Institute of Technology and Evaluation may enter the business office or other office or workplace of a person engaged in manufacturing, importing or selling Gas Equipment to perform an on-site inspection in which they inspect the books, documents, and any other articles of the person (Article 172, paragraph (1), etc. of the Act).

(7) Order for improvement and prohibition of labeling, etc.

If an enterprise fails to perform the duties in (2) to (4) or sells any Gas Equipment without labeling it with the PSTG mark as in (5), it may face an order for improvement, prohibition of labeling, or other similar actions (Articles 148, 149, etc. of the Act).

The next part explains to enterprises manufacturing or importing Gas Equipment the procedures and how to prepare notification documents under the PSTG marking system described in 1-2.

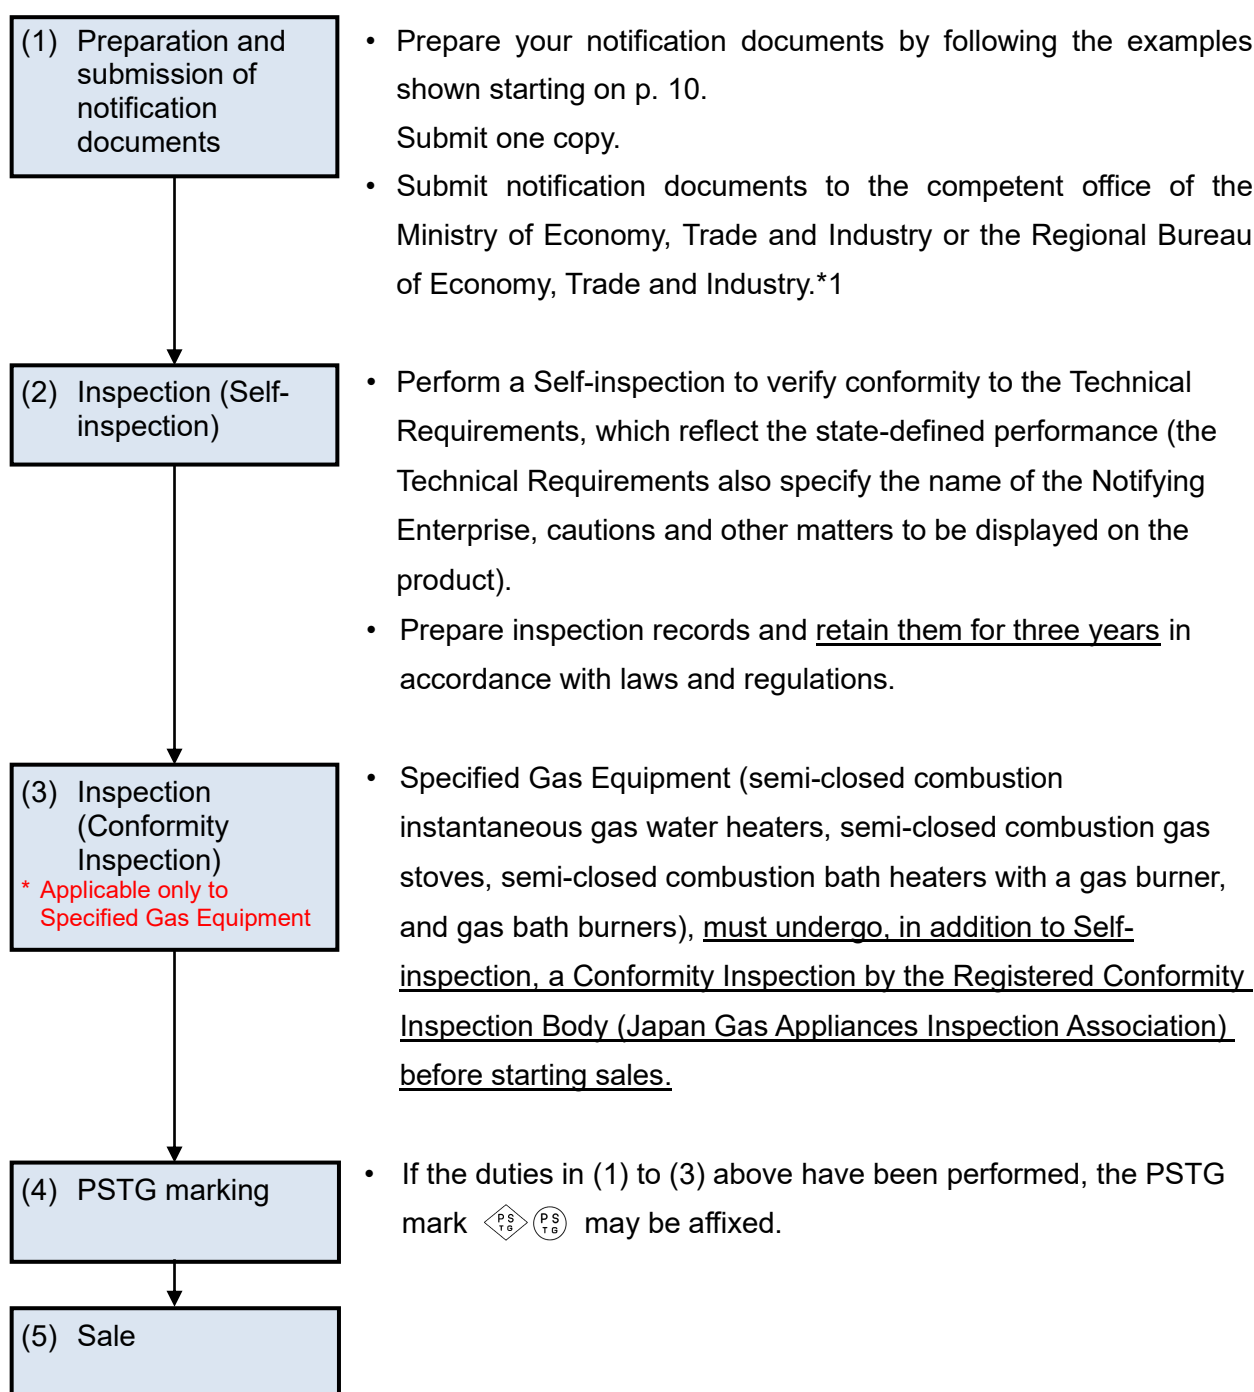

2. Procedures for starting manufacture/import of products: Procedure Flowchart

Among the necessary procedures, the following documents may be completed and submitted via the Safety Net on the internet.
