

Next-generation Human Resource Development which supports Startups and Innovation

Economic and Industrial Policy Bureau
Commerce and Service Industry Policy
Group

Expansion of Academy which Nurtures "Talented Teens" (Innovation Academy Concept (tentative))

- In the world of sports like soccer, academies which discover and nurture talented children function at national or regional levels. On the other hand, there are only a few academies which nurture unique and diverse talented children who may possibly become future scientists or engineers.
- We shall consider policies to scale services supportive of exploration activities, which is totally different from traditional cram schools, through cooperation between companies, entrepreneurs, university, and municipals, while taking advantage of online tools. This shall expand and enhance "third places" across the country.

