

Maurits Dolmans

Lawyer (Partner), Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton LLP

Maurits Dolmans' practice focuses on EU, Dutch, UK and international competition law, especially as related to high-tech, intellectual property, and sustainability. Maurits joined Cleary Gottlieb in 1985 and became a partner in 1994.

He has extensive experience in information technology, internet, telecom, media, as well as in energy and financial services. He has appeared in proceedings before the European Commission and the EU courts, national courts and national competition authorities of several Member States, and ICC and NAI arbitrations.

Many of his competition cases involve multi-sided platforms, high-tech products, new economy services, licensing or refusals to license, standardization, IP strategy, access to networks, mergers, joint ventures and other transactions, intellectual property arbitration and litigation, abuses of dominance, vertical agreements and cartels.

He has advised on, and been involved in, a number of cases and transactions related to sustainability and competition law, has lectured and authored a range of articles and book chapters on sustainable competition policy, and was invited as a subject matter expert at OECD and European Commission and other conferences on Sustainability and Competition. He also advises on other sustainability initiatives, including the EU Green Deal and innovation.
